THE WORLD AT LARGE.

Summary of the Daily News.

WASHINGTON NOTES.

The President formally opened the Southern Exposition at Montgomery, Ala., by touching a telegraph button in the White House.

The President issued his proclamation declaring Montana a State on the 8th.

The annual report of United States Treasurer Huston on the operations and condition of the treasury for the fiscal year ended June 30, has been made public. Revenues amounted to $387,000,000, and expenditures $290,288,978, inclusive of $17,292,967 aid in premiums on bonds purchased.

The statement issued by the bureau of statistics relative to imports and exports of the year shows the imports running higher than exports, and that more money is being sent abroad for goods than being received for production of this country. Importations for the year amount to $600,000,000 which is $50,000,000 in excess of exports for the same period.

The President issued his proclamation declaring Washington Territory a State on the afternoon of the 11th.

THE EAST.

JOHN L. SULLIVAN, the pugilist, has been made a co-respondent in a divorce suit brought by a Syracuse (N. Y.) barber against his wife.

Fire in Allegheny City, Pa., the other morning destroyed Dovey's brass foundry and a carpet cleaning place, causing $400,000 loss. A negro was burned to death.

Two small children of Jeremiah Shaw, of Haverhill, Mass., were buried in a sand bank and killed the other day.

JAMES JACKSON, aged eighteen, while gunning at Jamaica Plains, L. I., was killed by the accidental discharge of his gun. Harry Weeks, while gunning at Rockwell Center, L. I., was fatally wounded.

BUSINESS failures (Dun's report) for the seven days ended November 7, including Canada, numbered 207. The corresponding week last year the number was 226.

Two boilers exploded in A. Barde & Co.'s mine near Hazleton, Pa., the other morning. John Burke, Frank Munch and Joseph Rano were killed. Cold water run into a hot boiler was the cause.

DAVID WAMBOLD, one of the best known negro ministers in the country, died at New York on the 10th.

The first passenger service on the Vandalia between New York and St. Louis went into effect on the 11th.

GILMAN P. ROBINSON, late registrar of Brown University, Providence, R. I., and a son of Rev. E. G. Robinson, ex-president of that institution, has been arrested charged with the embezzlement of $5,000 of the funds of the university, though it is reported that the amount of his shortage will reach $17,000.

AN explosion of flash powder occurred at the chemical manufacturing establishment of Wiley & Wallace, Philadelphia, by which three men were instantly killed, one fatally injured and another seriously injured.

THE WEST.

CATHOLIC ANNIVERSARY.

A Notable Celebration in Baltimore.—Magistrate Sessions at the Cathedral—Clerical Magistrates Present.

BALTIMORE, Md., Nov. 11.—The most important group of events in the history of the Catholic Church in America began yesterday morning. It was the commencement of a triple celebration: the hundredth anniversary of the appointment of the first American Catholic Bishop; the inauguration of the first congress of Catholic laymen held in the United States; and the dedication of the new National University for Catholics.

Two thousand strangers were in Baltimore to witness the spectacle. Four times as many people as in the local Catholics as could possibly be accommodated in the Cathedral where the initial scenes were to be witnessed.

So great was the pressure for seats that persons known to have traveled across the continent from California expressly to be present were among those disappointed in not securing admission.

The old Cathedral that crowns the Charles street hill had within its walls an assemblage most notable, and around its iron picket fence on Charles, Mulberry, Cathedral and Franklin streets people changed in thousands, while waiting some with interest, others with pride, the procession of priests and Bishops, and lingered long after the chant of the seminarians announced that the service had begun. Admission to the church could be gained only by the tender of a card of invitation. Every available bit of space within was utilized, yet thousands of people, visitors as well as Baltimoreans, had to be shut out.

The gathering of prelates embraced two Cardinals, seventeen Archbishops and seventy-five Bishops. The Pope was represented in the person of Archbishop Satolli of Lepanto, Canada by Cardinal Taschereau, Mexico by Bishops Montes d'Oca and E. Antequera Gillo, England by Bishop John Virtue, of Portsmouth, and Mr. Gad, of London. All of the Archbishops in the United States were in attendance except Kenrick, of St. Louis, who was too feeble to travel.

The hall in which the priests assembled was elaborately decorated. Above the doors were the Papal colors, yellow and white—and above these stretching upward to the eaves were great streamers of red, white and blue. When all was ready, 600 clergy, walking two and two, emerged clad in white surplices and black cassocks and berettes.

Presently, while the white surpliced priests were opening ranks a mass of purple enveloped figures were seen in the Cardinal's doorway. It was the gathering of nearly all the Catholic ministers and Archbishops of the United States, with representatives from Mexico, Canada, England and Rome.

Within the Cathedral, ten minutes later the scene was simply magnificent. The pews throughout the church were crowded to the utmost with laity.

The solemn pontifical mass was begun at 11:15 with the following officiating: Celebrant, Archbishop Williams, of Boston; assistant priest, Rev. Dr. Magan, of Baltimore; deacon, Father Bartlett, of Baltimore; sub-deacon, Father Duffy, of Brooklyn; master of ceremonies, Rev. J. S. McCallen, of Montreal, and assistants, Fathers Whelan and Riordan, of Baltimore.

Probably the most impressive part of the mass, next to the consecration, was the conferring of the Papal blessing. The venerable Archbishop at the altar seemed to feel it a doubly solemn moment when, turning to the congregation, he paused an instant and while the people in the church knelt he raised his hand and slowly made the sign of the cross.

The mass ended with special intercession for the Pope chanted by all the clergy. It was 1:45 p. m. when the "Missa Solenne" was said. The first intonation of the centennial ceremonies began. It was delivered by Archbishop Ryan, of Philadelphia, whose fine presence and magnetic eloquence, in spite of the long ceremonial preceding, held his hearers for an hour and a half.

The patriotic spirit of the Archbishop's address and his tribute to the recent devotees of the colored people and Indians seemed to awaken general enthusiasm, but the most telling effect was aroused when he vinted the rights of Catholic editors, if need be, to freely comment on the failings of the clergy.

After this the benediction was given and the procession of clergy moved out down Cathedral street to Mulberry, to the Cardinal's residence, where ranks were broken.

In the evening the scene at the Cathedral was a re-enactment of the burning with a crucifixion, of course, of vespers. Archbishop Hees, of Milwaukee, was the celebrant. Archbishop Ireland, of St. Paul, preached the sermon, which dealt entirely with the future.

The Catholic editors attending the Congress held a meeting last night. Father F. W. Graham, president, with Con Delaney, of St. Louis, as secretary. They decided to hold a convention of editors at Cincinnati on the first Wednesday of May, 1891. The officers of this meeting were instructed to make the necessary arrangements for the convention.

Coal Mines in a Bad Flight.

SPRING VALLEY, Kan., Nov. 10.—The prospects of a settlement here are not as bright as a few days ago. The men agreed in conference, with the coal company's superintendent to a form of contract and it was forwarded to Mr. Scott for his approval. Instead of an answer he has sent in some new terms. It is now pending.

The contractors for the new bridge over the Missouri river at St. Louis have been ordered to stop work until they have paid the taxes on the property.

Shot His Arrow into a Law.

PEORIA, Ill., Nov. 11.—Oscar Anthony and Fred Becker, prosperous young farmers, met on the highway between Hilson and Maple in Tazewell County near here yesterday and indulged in a quarrel, during which Anthony shot and fatally wounded Becker.

Anthony was married to Becker's sister about a year ago, but she could not agree with him and left him to live with her mother. Her husband wanted to see her when he was in Peoria.

SANDBAGGED A WITNESS.

An Important Witness in the Cronin Case Sandbagged—Bullfinch Discharged.

CHICAGO, Nov. 10.—Mrs. Mandie Morgan, who is said to be an important witness for the prosecution in the Cronin case, was sandbagged by an unknown person, and as a result of the blow is now in a dangerous condition.

Mrs. Morgan was returning from a visit about 6:30 o'clock. To shorten the distance she walked through the alley in the rear of the house. She had just entered the alley when a person closely wrapped in a heavy shawl, stepped from the shadow of the building and dealt her a heavy blow on the head. Had it not been for her roll of hair the blow would probably have killed her. For nearly an hour Mrs. Morgan was unconscious. Upon recovering she described her assailant as a man dressed as a woman. The police are searching for the person.

ALEXANDER SULLIVAN DISCHARGED.

CHICAGO, Nov. 10.—The matter of the application of Alexander Sullivan, for release from bail of $25,000, in which he was held by the coroner's inquest last June, pending action by the grand jury, was decided today by Judge Baker yesterday morning. The State did not contest the motion and the obligation was thereon discharged by order of the court.

PRINTING HOUSES BURNED.

The A. N. Kellogg Newspaper Company and P. H. Newman's Large Job Office at Kansas City burned.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 11.—The three story brick building at 312, 314 and 316 West Sixth street, owned by Peter H. Tiernan and occupied by P. H. Newman, book binder and printer, and the A. N. Kellogg Newspaper Company, were completely gutted by fire Saturday night. The loss to building and contents will amount to about $65,000, both being fully covered by insurance. The origin of the fire is not known. The alarm was sounded at 9:45 o'clock and by the time the fire department had arrived the entire second and third floors of the building at 312 West Sixth, occupied by Tiernan, was ablaze. The fire seemed to have started in the middle of the building and it is supposed to have been occasioned by the heated pipes in the book publishing company's rooms. The fire spread rapidly and seven fire companies from Kansas City, Mo., and one from Kansas City, Kan., seemed at first powerless to check it. The presser and other machinery in both establishments was badly damaged and the type and other appointments are a total loss. Both houses carried fair insurance.

The A. N. Kellogg Newspaper Company immediately set to work to secure new quarters temporarily, and all persons will be supplied with new type delay.

GOODLOE DEAD.

Colonel Goodloe Also a Victim of the Recent Deadly Encounter.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Nov. 11.—Colonel William Cassius Goodloe died yesterday about one o'clock from the effects of the wound received from Colonel Swope's pistol in the terrible encounter in the post-office here last Friday afternoon, in which Swope was cut to pieces and died. He died peacefully and painlessly, surrounded by his family and a few close friends. He joined the Episcopal Church before he died and was baptized. The entire city is in mourning, and the flag on the Government building has been put at half mast. The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at two o'clock. All members of the family were at the dying man's bedside when Major Green Clay Goodloe, his brother who did not get here until last night.

Goodloe's statement of the difficulty after he was told that he could not live made Swope the aggressor, as he drew his revolver and shot Goodloe just as the latter got his knife open. Goodloe said that, feeling he had received a death wound, he cut him until he fell.

Hundreds of telegrams of sympathy have been received by the family.

ATTEMPT TO KILL.

An Editor Refuses a Retraction and Trouble Follows.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Nov. 10.—Detective Killy, candidate for district commissioner, attempted to kill Norman E. Mack, editor of the Times, for publishing an article last Sunday, charging him with having stabbed Thomas McAuliffe over a card quarrel some time ago. The story was considerably exaggerated and Killy demanded a retraction. This was demanded from time to time until Killy went to Mack's time and called on Mack. A quarrel ensued and Killy rushed at Mack with his hip pocket, when Editor Crosby rushed between them and stopped the infuriated man. Mack subsequently went up stairs to the editorial rooms, Killy following and swearing. When half way up the stairs Detective Crowley and Taylor, who had been summoned, arrived, and here the drunken and infuriated man away. The Times is out with an article denouncing Killy and preferring further charges, and further trouble is expected.

Hold Forger.

BOSTON, Nov. 11.—May 2, 1889, 21 bridge G. Stone, of Harvard, died a few days afterward his nephew presented a will purporting to have been made March 4, which was put in the probate court at Worcester. This will had the names Edwin J. Smith, William Orr and Mrs. A. Fairbanks as witnesses from Pennsylvania. The bulk of the property, valued at about $25,000. Yesterday Dr. Stone, who resides at Newburyport, was arrested, charged with perjury. Mrs. Fairbanks having furnished information showing the none of the supposed witnesses had witnessed the signing of the will.

The Rolling Trainmen Strong in Death.

FORT DOUGLAS, Iowa, Nov. 11.—Dennis McCarthy, one of the oldest men in Northern Iowa, died at his home near this city Thursday last, aged one hundred and eleven years. The old man was hale and hearty up to within a few hours of his death and retained the full possession of his mental faculties to the last. He was a staunch Democrat and took great interest in the election. When informed of the result in Iowa, he exclaimed: "Thank God."

THE NATIONAL TREASURY.

Increased Revenues and Expenditures—Huston's Annual Report.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Hon. J. N. Huston, Treasurer of the United States, has made a long report to the Secretary of the operations of the office during the last fiscal year, and the condition of the treasury June 30, last.

The year is characterized as a remarkable one in the history of finances, both the revenues and expenditures having been exceeded but few times since the foundation of the Government.

The former amounted to $387,000,000 and the latter to $290,288,978, inclusive of $17,292,967 paid in premium on bonds purchased. The surplus revenues June 30 were $97,711,021, a decrease of $23,550,190 as compared with the year before, counting premium on bonds as an ordinary expenditure.

On June 30, 1889, there was in the Treasurer's custody, in cash and effective bonds, the sum of $104,729,546, a year later the sum of $70,048,971.
